If you were stranded on a desert island, what three kitchen items would you hope to have with you?

If I were stranded on a deserted island.....hmmm, does a fishing pole count as a kitchen item? Along with a good skillet and a sharp knife?

What would you have for your last supper?

A perfect burger, truffle fries, and a bottle of '55 Bordeaux. And warm chocolate chip cookies.

The city of Cleveland and surrounding areas have such amazing eateries. What restaurant is your favorite? What is your favorite item off the menu?

Impossible to pick only one, but I'll say the patio at L'Albatros is a favorite place to meet with friends for wine and their exceptional cheese service.

What's your favorite condiment?

Aioli

If you could share a meal with a famous person (living or not), who would it be and why?

If I had this kind of "magic", it would be a bigger dinner party – but I'll start with Coco Chanel. Revolutionized women's clothing, and I could thank her for giving us the LBD and putting us in pants.

When it comes to food what is one of your guilty pleasures?

Any type of fried potato. (*See last supper)

While we don't condone trash-talking because after all, we're generating awareness for some great causes, we'd like to know what you would like to say to your competitors – Jeff Kurkjian (Q104) and Anna Harouvis (Anna in the Raw)

I'd say good luck with the raw food....because team Butcher and Brewer is bringing the HEAT!
